FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Dimetis engages new U.S. based Sr. Pre-Sales System Engineer

Dietzenbach, Germany, April 15, 2020 – Dimetis today announced the appointment of Scott Kowalczyk. He joins the company as a Senior Pre-Sales System Engineer based in Michigan, USA, and will support the Dimetis team in North America.

Scott Kowalczyk joins us with thirty-five years of experience in the telecommunications and broadcast industry. Scott spent the first ten years of his career in the U.S. military satellite communications industry working in various roles as active duty, government contractor, and Department of Defense (DoD) civil service employee. He is experienced with formal DoD reliability, development and growth testing and was sent on many special assignments at the Pentagon, on Air Force One, aboard naval ships, and other military facilities around the world. He transitioned into the private sector and spent twenty-five years at AT&T where he helped build several large broadcast video networks including the IPTV U-verse network and Global Video Services network, which is one of Dimetis's larger U.S. based clients. Scott has worked directly with many U.S. broadcasters over the years and even spent a short time working for an ABC affiliate before coming to Dimetis. He will be focused on supporting and growing our North American clients.

Thomas Will, CEO of Dimetis said: "I would like to take this opportunity to welcome Scott Kowalczyk to Dimetis. His experience and expertise give him an excellent understanding of how software businesses run. I am certain he will make an outstanding contribution to Dimetis."
